Our Code of Conduct

A Way of Being, Learning, and Living Together

Our Shared Belief

At Edenbridge Grammar, education is not only about achievement.
It is about becoming trustworthy, thoughtful, and capable human beings.

Every child is an amanah (trust).
Every adult is accountable.
Every interaction shapes culture.

This Code of Conduct guides how students, teachers, and parents live and learn together—with dignity, clarity, and responsibility.

Our Value Anchors

These are not decorative words. They are behavioural commitments.

- Amanah (Trust) – We are responsible for our time, work, words, and tools.
- Adab (Respect) – We speak and act with dignity, even in disagreement.
- Sidq (Truthfulness) – We are honest in learning, communication, and digital life.
- Rahmah (Compassion) – We choose empathy over harshness.
- Ihsan (Excellence) – We strive sincerely, not performatively.
- Shukr (Gratitude) – We care for what we are given.
- Niyyah (Intention) – We reflect before we act.

Character is built in daily habits.

EDENBRIDGE GRAMMAR
BEYOND SCHOOLING

1. Our Relationship with Ourselves

Students

- Take responsibility for effort and behaviour.
- Ask for help when overwhelmed.
- Use technology mindfully.
- Care for physical and emotional well-being.
- Accept mistakes as part of growth.

Teachers

- Maintain professional integrity.
- Continue learning and self-reflection.
- Manage emotions before responding.
- Model balance in technology use.
- Seek support when needed.

Parents

- Encourage resilience, not dependency.
- Allow children to experience effort and natural consequences.
- Model responsible digital behaviour at home.
- Communicate concerns constructively.

We believe self-discipline is learned, not demanded.

2. Our Relationship with Each Other

We are a community. Safety and dignity are non-negotiable.

Students Will:

- Speak respectfully.
- Listen without mocking or dismissing.
- Include others.
- Reject bullying—physical, verbal, social, or digital.
- Resolve conflict through dialogue.

Teachers Will:

- Treat every child with fairness and dignity.
- Avoid humiliation or sarcasm.
- Maintain appropriate boundaries.
- Address conflict calmly and professionally.
- Protect students' emotional and physical safety.

Parents Will:

- Communicate respectfully with staff.
- Avoid public criticism or digital hostility.
- Trust due process before reacting.
- Support restorative conversations when needed.

Disagreement is natural. Disrespect is not.

3. Our Relationship with Learning

Learning is a trust — not a performance.

Students Will:

- Complete work honestly.
- Use AI and technology as tools—not shortcuts.

- Credit sources.
- Value growth over grades.
- Take responsibility for missed work.

Teachers Will:

- Design meaningful, ethical learning experiences.
- Teach responsible AI and digital literacy.
- Provide fair assessment.
- Offer constructive feedback.
- Avoid favouritism.

Parents Will:

- Support independent effort.
- Avoid completing assignments for children.
- Encourage ethical use of AI and research tools.
- Focus on growth, not comparison.

Cheating, plagiarism, or misuse of AI damages trust more than marks.

---

4. Our Relationship with Technology

Edenbridge Grammar embraces innovation with wisdom.

Technology is powerful. Character determines its impact.

Students:

- Use devices for learning purposes.
- Protect personal data.
- Communicate respectfully online.
- Avoid harmful or distracting content.
- Understand that digital footprints are permanent.

Teachers:

- Use technology to enhance—not replace—thinking.
- Model ethical digital conduct.
- Protect student privacy.
- Maintain professional boundaries online.

Parents:

- Monitor and guide digital use at home.
- Reinforce digital responsibility.
- Avoid using social media to escalate school concerns.

Digital behaviour is moral behaviour.

---

5. Our Relationship with the Environment

Our campus, materials, and resources are shared TRUSTS.

Everyone Will:

- Care for books, furniture, and devices.
- Keep spaces clean.
- Use water, electricity, and materials responsibly.
- Respect shared spaces.

Gratitude is shown through care

Developmental Understanding

Early Years

Children are learning how to be in the world.

When mistakes happen, we:

- Pause and talk it through gently.
- Help children notice what they are feeling.
- Guide them toward better choices next time.
- Practise making things right in simple, meaningful ways.

Mistakes are not labels.
They are moments for learning.

EDENBRIDGE GRAMMAR
BEYOND SCHOOLING

Foundation Years

Children begin taking ownership of their actions and learning habits.

We teach them to:

- Reflect on choices and consequences.
- Take responsibility without shame.
- Make amends when their actions affect others.
- Strengthen honesty in academic work.
- Use technology mindfully.

We normalise this truth:
Growth requires discomfort.
Character grows when we learn from what didn't go well.

Formation & Direction (Senior Years)

Students move toward self-governance.

They are expected to:

- Reflect before acting.
- Take initiative in resolving conflicts.
- Demonstrate academic integrity.
- Use AI and digital tools ethically.
- Show leadership in both intellect and conduct.

At this stage, we guide less and expect more.
Responsibility increases with maturity.

Our Approach to Behaviour

At Edenbridge Grammar, discipline is educational, not humiliating.

We do not embarrass.
We do not label.
We do not reduce a child to a mistake.

Instead, we:

- Understand what led to the decision.
- Help students recognise impact.
- Support them in restoring trust.
- Coach them toward stronger future choices.

Consequences are:

- Thoughtful
- Age-appropriate

- Connected to learning

- Designed to build responsibility

Mistakes are part of becoming capable.

Avoiding accountability weakens growth.
Facing it builds strength.

Academic Rigour & Character

We believe deeply in educational rigour.

Rigour does not mean pressure.
It means depth.
It means thinking carefully.
It means doing the hard mental work that builds clarity and judgment.

Students are expected to:

- Think independently.

- Engage critically.

- Revise and improve.

- Use feedback seriously.

- Value mastery over shortcuts.

We emphasise working smarter, not just harder.

Hard work without strategy leads to burnout.
Smart effort — planning, reflection, disciplined focus — leads to excellence.

Character and intellect grow together.

A student who copies may protect a grade.
A student who struggles honestly builds competence.

We choose long-term strength over short-term performance.

Making Things Right

When relationships are strained or expectations are not met, students are guided to:

- Listen to others' perspectives.

- Take responsibility without defensiveness.

- Contribute to restoring balance in the community.

- Demonstrate changed behaviour through action.

Repair is not punishment.
It is a practice in maturity.

Professional Conduct for Staff

All staff members are expected to:

- Uphold confidentiality.
- Maintain punctuality and preparedness.
- Avoid conflicts of interest.
- Demonstrate fairness in evaluation.
- Avoid any behaviour that compromises student safety.
- Use authority responsibly.

Leadership begins with modelling.

Parent-School Partnership

Education is strongest when school and home align.

We ask parents to:

- Respect school procedures.
- Attend meetings and communications responsibly.
- Support consequences that promote growth.
- Raise concerns through proper channels.
- Encourage independence and resilience.

Shielding a child from accountability weakens character.
Walking beside them strengthens it.

Our Closing Commitment

This Code of Conduct is not about perfection.

It is about:

- Awareness
- Responsibility
- Ethical use of knowledge and technology
- Repairing mistakes
- Choosing integrity—even when unseen

EDENBRIDGE GRAMMAR
BEYOND SCHOOLING

We do not prepare children merely to compete. We prepare them to contribute.

Edenbridge Grammar stands for education that builds intellect, character, and conscience—together.
